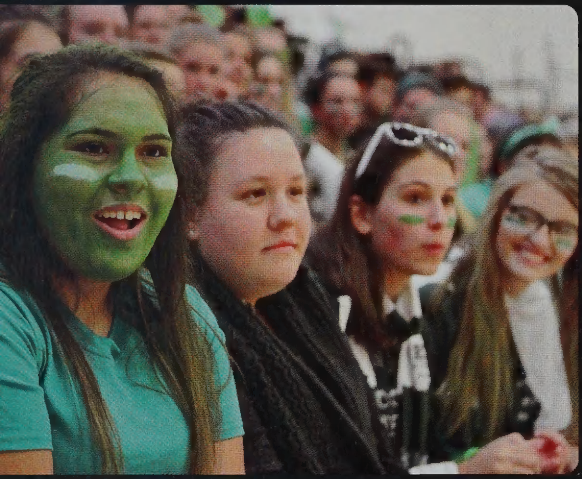
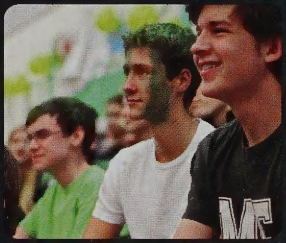
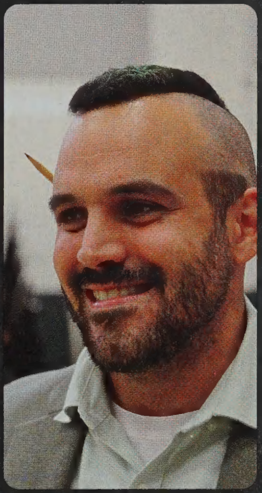
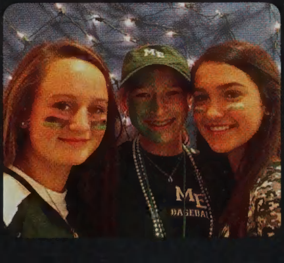
WE ARE MERHS









The class of 2017

Dear Class of 2017,

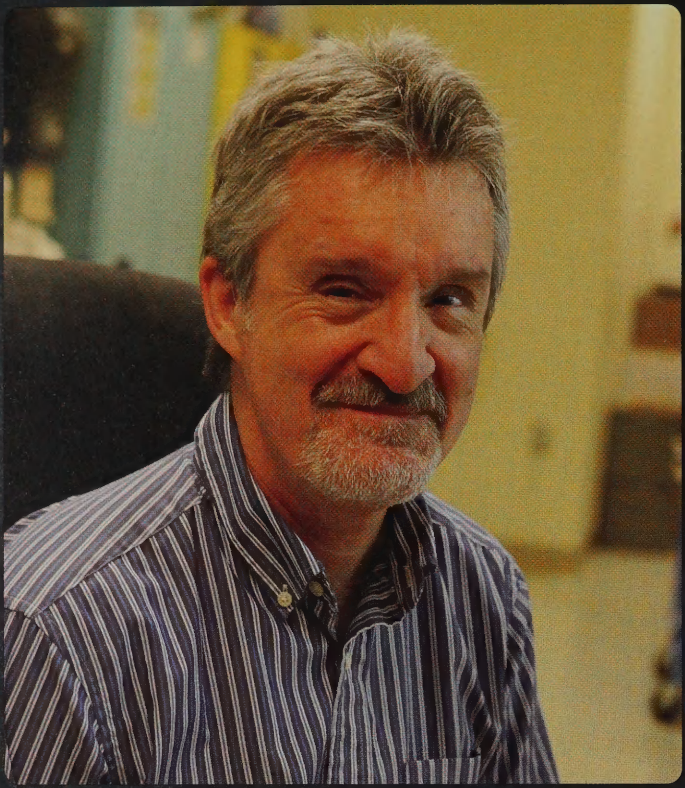
You will always be a special class to me. We entered MERHS as freshman together. It was my first year at Manchester Essex and your first year in the high school. We have worked through the last four years together. I have enjoyed celebrating with you your many accomplishments. You have achieved high standards in the classroom. You have found a great number of successes in athletic competitions. You have expanded your learning through participation in a great number of extra-curricular activities.

I have appreciated getting to know each of you. I know that you will find success in whatever pathway you choose after graduation. Remember that you are strong individuals that can overcome obstacles and will find your way. Remember also to be true to your values and to celebrate your successes. You will always have a home at MERHS.

Best wishes,

Patricia Puglisi

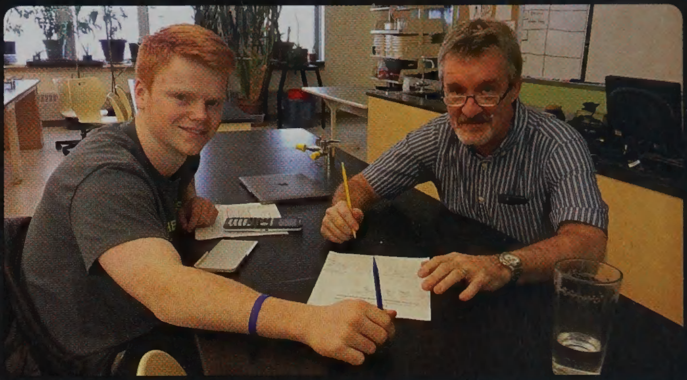
2017 Dedication: Keith Gray



"Mr. Gray is one of the most sympathetic and kind teachers that strives to personally interact with students."

"Mr. Gray explains the college processs in students' terms and the process of do this at this time and so on."

"I was terrible at Chem during Junior year. Mr. Gray used to sit down with me all the time after school and would be so patient in trying to get me to understand. You could tell it wasn't that he wanted me to get a good grade, but he really wanted to help me understand what we were learning. I could never wrap my head around what a mole was or anything like that but he's still one of my favorite teachers... and I think the general respect he gives to each one of his students is actually something the class of 2017 can agree on."



"He was the best teacher and really helped you understand what you were learning."

"Even when you don't have his class, he is available to help you with questions about science, give out chargers, and forks during lunch. He is really helpful and friendly."

"Mr. Gray went out of his way to help me pass chemistry and spent a lot of time after class re teaching me the material because I didn't understand it the first time."

"Once I asked Mr. Gray to sit down and explain something to me 11-12 times because I wouldn't understand it until he did. So he sat down and explained it until I finally understood."

2017 Dedication: John Mullady

"Mullady has been with us since day 1."

"Mr. Mullady has been part of the senior class since we first came here as little freshmen. Not only that but has been helping move us along and to understand what we are doing even up till now as seniors."

"He is such a kind teacher, and needs to be appreciated for all he has done for this school. He is truly a role model and should be recognized for his hard work and dedication he has for the school and the community."

"Mr. Mullady was a motivating track coach and over all made the team great last year."

"I told Mr. Mullady sophomore year that I liked to write stories, and that I'd like to write a book when I'm older. These same week he gave me a book by Stephen King on writing a great novel. It really meant a lot to me to know that teachers do care."

"Mr. Mullady is the coolest and funniest teacher I have ever had"

From Your Editors

Dear Class of 2017:

We want to start off by saying a big thank you to all of the yearbook staff, parents, students, and teacher, who have helped make this year's yearbook happen.

A lot of time, dedication, and hard work has been put into making this book, and the whole process has been so rewarding. We're really proud of the final product, and you all should be too, considering that many of you contributed pictures, ideas, and support that helped us put this collage of memories together. We hope that this yearbook accurately portrays the year in the form of candids and formal pictures, as well as captures the ending journey of us seniors throughout our high school career. As students, you all make the memories; being part of yearbook, we just capture them. It will be difficult to say goodbye to this school we have attended for the past seven years, but with all the memories encapsulated in this yearbook, we will always be able to look back and remember the good times. We wish every single one of you the best of luck in your life after high school. You will always have this book to remember old adventures, but now it is time for you all to go out and make new ones.

Thank you for a great year!

Managing Editors Lily Schrafft and Santana Tosi

POLITICAL PARTIES IN THE UNITED STATES,

Dear Mr. Mullady and Ms. Dubois,

The class of 2017 would like to thank you so much for all the effort you have put into making our class the best it could be these four years. Under your guidance and assistance, we have been able to accomplish more than we thought possible as freshmen. You both were there in the most stressful times, reminding us to stay on top of our responsibilities while not getting overly anxious over whether or not we could reach our goals. You were not only advisors and teachers to many of us, but you were also there as friends. Passing you in the hall never fails to make us laugh. We know that we can always take a short break from the stress of the day and spend a few minutes making tea in Mr. Mullady's room. Your daily quotes gave us that little jump-start on the day that reminded us that life isn't just about the grades, but stopping to enjoy every moment and appreciate the nuances of life. "Dubs," you are such a source of happiness and support to all of your students, whether shouting from the sidelines of the basketball court or getting off on a tangent in APUSH. The truly unique part of getting to know each of you these four years is that even long after we stop having you as teachers, we still feel as close to you both as we did in your classes, and we know we can always take a minute to stop and chat about Mr. Mullady's adorable kids and Ms. Dubois's nephews, all of whom have grown to be a class-wide obsession.

We will sorely miss you guys when we're gone, but just as in high school, we know that we will always be able to stop in and catch up like we never left. Thank you both so much for being the best advisors we could have asked for.

Love,

The Class of 2017

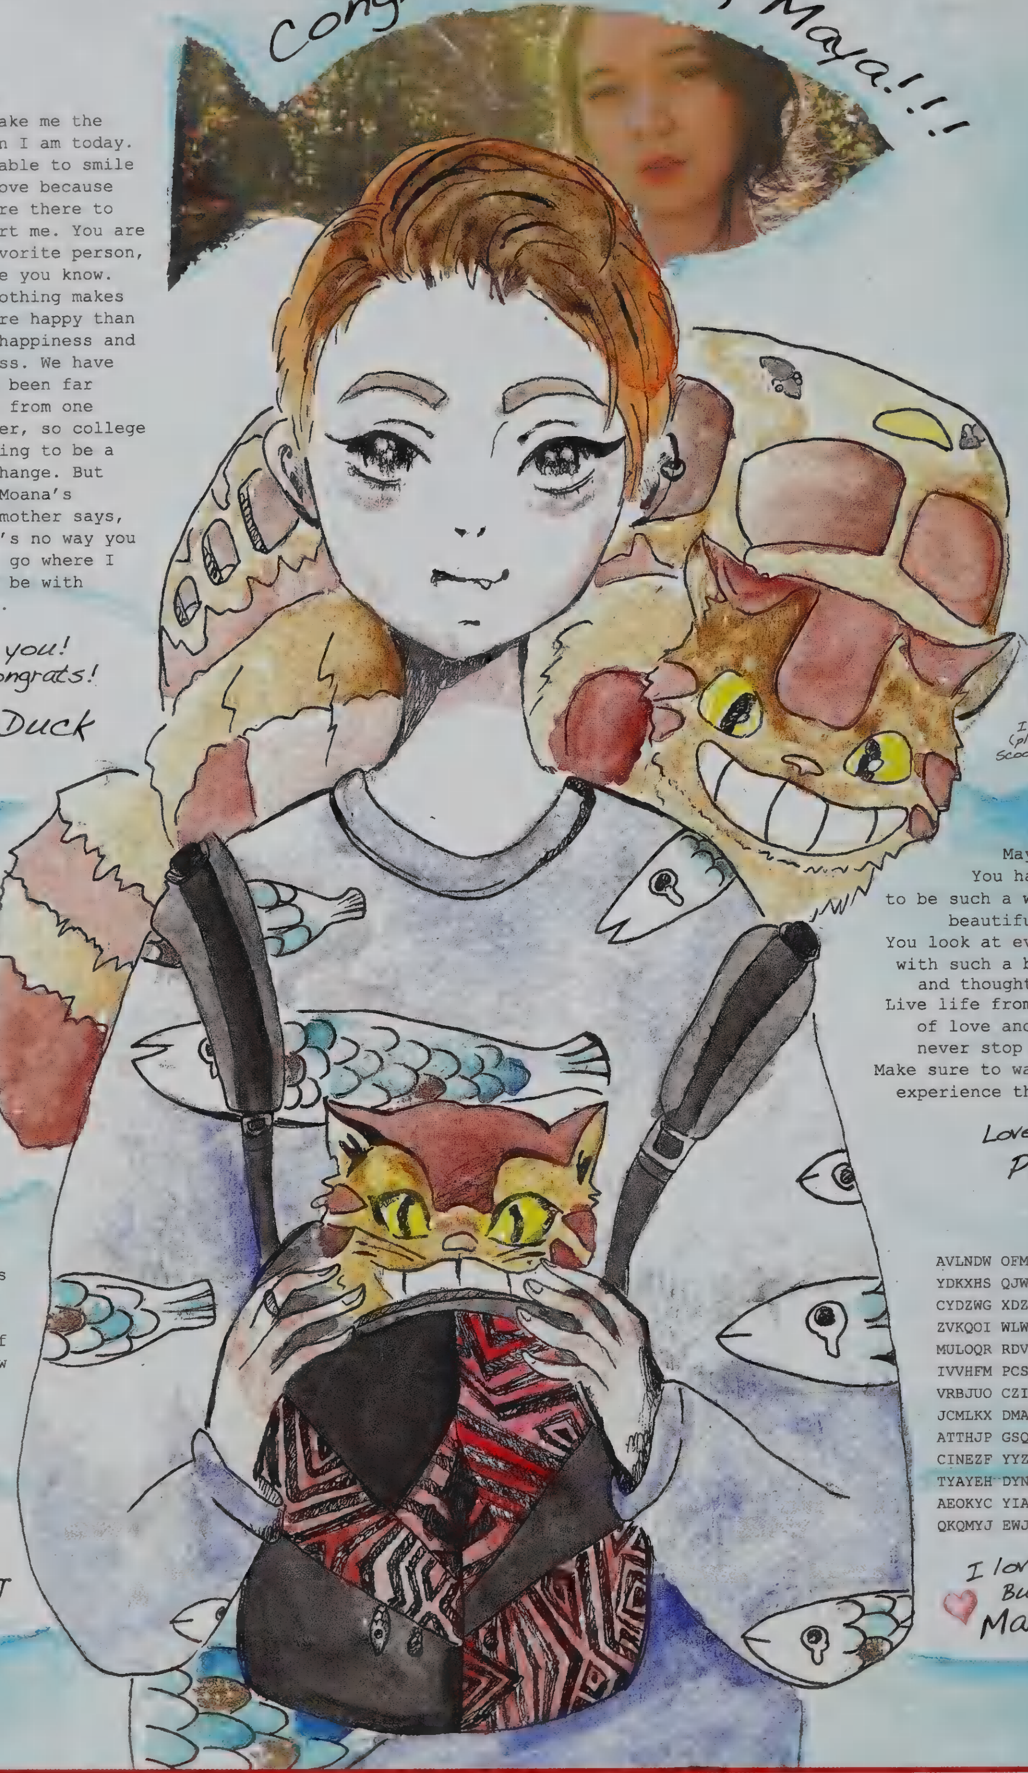
Congratulations, Maya!!!



Mymy-
You make me the person I am today. I am able to smile and love because you are there to support me. You are my favorite person, I hope you know. And nothing makes me more happy than your happiness and success. We have never been far apart from one another, so college is going to be a big change. But like Moana's grandmother says, there's no way you would go where I won't be with you...

Love you!
And Congrats!
